Secretary-General

No. SG/2022/97

Date: 19 December 2022

To: All APA Parliament Speakers

Excellency,

As we set foot into a new year, my colleagues at the APA Secretariat join me to convey our heartfelt congratulations and warmest wishes to Your Excellency and other members of your parliament on the arrival of the year 2023.

The turn of the year provides us with a welcome opportunity to review the achievements and setbacks of the last year and to set goals for the new one more insightfully.

Despite all challenges facing the whole world in the aftermath of global pandemic followed by chain of unpredicted international issues during the past two years, we could successfully cover our regular meetings virtually, in addition to organizing couples of webinars to drive information sharing and our programs forwards in an attempt to explore new opportunities on how we can advance parliamentary diplomacy.

While 2022 was an incredibly challenging year in so many ways, we are optimistic and hopeful that the coming year 2023 and beyond will bring new insights and opportunities to support the work of our organization and pave necessary grounds for dedicated efforts by all the APA members to use our potentials for the enhancement of peace and security in the region.

In this vein, APA, as the largest regional organization, can act as a key player in light of closer cooperation of all its members to continue working diligently together to ensure realization of the objectives envisaged in its Charter.

It is our fervent belief and hope that together, we will continue to work hand in hand at all levels of our organization among all our members and witness an increased cooperative spirit in order to give an impetus to all the programs and finetune to fit our meetings, seminars and conferences to come up with successful outcomes.

Please accept, Excellency, renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

Best Regards,
Mohammad Reza Majidi
