Excellency,

On the occasion of the National Day of Kyrgyzstan celebrated every year on August 31, I am pleased to express my warmest congratulations and best wishes to your Excellency, your colleagues in the Supreme Council and friendly people of your country.

As an important regional parliamentary organization with wide range of membership across the vast Continent of Asia, APA can play an important role in the enhancement of regional and international cooperation in various fields of common interest for the people of the region.

Considering that a good number of parliaments from the Central Asia are currently members of APA, which constitute a great potential for the advancement of parliamentary diplomacy, it is a great pleasure for us to welcome any role that your parliament can play for realization of the APA aspirations and advancement of its programs within the context of parliamentary diplomacy.

Please accept, Excellency, the assurances of my highest consideration.

Best Regards,
